"... And The Truth Shall Make You Free;" So Reads The General Conference Call Of President W. E. Park For August Sessions

Many Christian Leaders Will Be Heard Here

The 62nd Northfield General conference will convene on the Seminary campus Saturday, Aug. 2 and for the first time since 1934 will be under the direct leadership of the Northfield schools administration. President William E. Park serving his first year as head of the schools will act as presiding officer of the conference and assisting him will be Dr. Paul D. Moody, president of Middlebury college and newly elected trustee; and Dr. Paul Scherer, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church of New York City. Dr. Moody and Dr. Scherer have shared the chairmanship since 1934.

President William E. Park

In line with the General conference tradition of calling the outstanding Christian leadership of the day to its platform, the 1941 program lists many well-known speakers. Great Britain sends but one this year: Dr. Nathaniel Micklem, principal and professor of dogmatic theology at Mansfield college, Oxford university. He is one of the outstanding Congregationalists in the British Isles and one of the most vigorous intellectual forces in the British church. One of his special interests is the relationship of the German church to the Nazi government and he is considered an authority on the subject.

Dean Willard Sperry

Dr. Harris Elliott Kirk, Minister of the Franklin Street Presbyterian church of Baltimore and a familiar figure at the conference for many years will act as personal counsellor to conference guests and the office of chaplain will be filled by Dean Willard Sperry of Harvard Divinity school.

Among the other speakers will be: Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, professor of applied theology at Union Theological seminary; Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, rector of St. Luke's church, Philadelphia; President J. Edgar Park of Wheaton college, Norton; and Dean Lynn Harold Hough of Drew Theological seminary.

Also Prof. Elmer G. Homrighausen of Princeton Theological seminary; Dr. Gaius Glenn Atkins, professor emeritus of homiletics and sociology of Auburn Theological seminary; Dean Austin Partridge of St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo, N. Y.; and the Rev. Carl Heath Kopf, minister of the Mt. Vernon church, Boston.

The Women's meetings held each weekday morning during the General conference will again be in charge of Dr. Scherer assisted by Miss Mary Alice Roper. As a new feature this year half of each session will be devoted to studying the home and foreign missionary subjects for the coming year under the direction of Miss Sur Weddell, general secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed church.

For the second year Northfield seminary and Mt. Hermon school students will assist in the conference program through the ministry of music. Last year's group will be augmented to the size of a small choir and will sing at either the morning or evening Auditorium service each day under the direction of Melvin L. Gallagher, choral director of the Northfield schools. General direction of conference music will be in the hands of Eugene P. Morgan of New York.

The Westminster Choir school will again be in session at Mt. Hermon during part of the General conference and will be heard in several concerts including the Northfield Festival of Sacred Music which will be held in the middle of the conference, Sunday, Aug. 10 instead of on the closing Sunday as in the past. Dr. John Finley Williamson, founder and president of Westminster will again conduct the festival chorus and his son-in-law, Clyde J. Hoyt of Princeton will train the individual choirs, succeeding Marvin Reicher who has won great popularity in that post in former years.

Founded by D. L. Moody 62 years ago the Northfield General conference has exerted a profound influence on the religious life of America. The original gathering was described as "A Convocation for Prayer," and later as the Northfield Bible conference and still later as the General conference for Christian workers. The present name has come into use within the last ten years.

Dr. Gaius G. Atkins

Following the custom established by the founder, President Park has issued a "call" to the conference and based it on the timely theme, "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." This call which is, in effect, an invitation to the Christian world to gather here this summer reads:

"The desire for truth, the faith in the truth, and the confidence that truth will triumph in our world is the basis of the Christian religion. Christ represents that truth. It is the truth that makes us free—free from prejudice and narrowness, from the slavery of fear and hate, and from the evil of selfishness. Our world needs, as never before, men and women to witness to this truth. The General conference at Northfield is called again that under the guidance of some of America's outstanding Christian leaders we may consider the applications of this truth to our lives and our world."

The other conferences devoted to various phases of Christian activity that have been gathered around the General conference to form the Northfield Summer conferences will again meet here bringing thousands of fine people to Northfield. Once again we are afforded the opportunity to prove through our courtesy, kindness and co-operation that Northfield with its outstanding summer program, its unexcelled recreational facilities, and its natural beauty is the ideal place for the Christian family to spend its vacation.

Student Sacred Concert Crowds The Auditorium; Amplifiers Carry Outside

Before a crowd of 3,000 people in the Northfield auditorium last Sunday afternoon, the 47th annual concert of sacred music was presented by the 1100 boys and girls of the Northfield schools under the direction of Melvin L. Gallagher, assisted by Paul Ivory, director of the student orchestra; Marion Keller and Carlton W. L'Hommiedieu, organists; and Catharine M. Colton, pianist.

The 550 girls of the Seminary dressed in white were massed in the choir loft on one side, while the boys of Mt. Hermon filled the left front of the vast auditorium. The choirs were on the platform with the orchestra directly beneath. It all made an impressive sight even before the singing began at 2:45. Singing is a tradition at the schools, founded by Dwight L. Moody, who, though himself, was a preacher rather than a singer, brought to the schools such famous singers of hymns as Sankey and Alexander. Under the direction of Melvin Gallagher, the choral work of both schools has taken on increasing excellence. The technique and also love of singing songs that are worthwhile were reflected in the program on Sunday.

The orchestra opened the concert with "The Overture" from "The Messiah" by Handel. This was followed by the first song number, "Hills of the North, Rejoice" by Shaw, sung by the entire student body. Robert Darone sang one of the stanzas of "Divine Praise" by Bortniansky as a solo, together with the Hermon choir. The Seminary then sang "The Lone Wild Fowl" by Philip James and "None Other

Melvin L. Gallagher

Lamb" by Wiseman. All the students sang the familiar hymn "Holy Spirit, Truth Divine," and "For All the Saints." Claire McLamore sang the solo part in "Alleluia" from motet "Exultate, Jubilate" from Mozart. The A Cappella choir sang "Ave Maria" by Arcadelt and "Gloria Patri" of Palestrina.

The NBC red network carried the last half hour of the program beginning with "O, God of Hosts" by Grieg. The chorus sang "Christ is Made the Sure Foundation" by Henry Smart. "Praise to the Lord" by Christiansen was sung by the A Cappella choir.

Dean Luther A. Weigle, of the Yale Divinity school, then gave a short talk on the schools and its message for America today. A most effective part of the concert was provided by the singing of three sections of "The Messiah" by the A Cappella Choir and the combined choirs and orchestra. Especially effective was the singing of the Hallelujah Chorus in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Handel. "The Northfield Benediction" closed the program of song.

Miss L. F. Dean of Brookline and Mrs. D. G. Simmons of Greenwich, Ct., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Field at their home during the past week.

Students Of Seminary Made Most Memorable Tree Day Activities

Last Saturday was Tree Day at the Seminary and observed in all its glory. Etched into a background of blue sunlit skies, a rich green of lawn, and the silvery waters of Perry pond, more than 200 girls participated in the May Day festival, while many hundreds looked on from the slope at Marquand.

Springtime maidens dressed in gay costumes danced upon the lawns while the music of the piano and violin were heard in the distance. The dances were from Greece, England, and gypsy land; some were gay and whirling; some smooth and stately. The story was written and directed by Grace Field, for many years head of the physical education department, who has resigned to marry and move to Indianapolis.

First of all came the Queen of May, Elizabeth Osbourne, escorted by her royal court made up of the following girls: Lynette Hemmingsway, Mary Henderson, Barbara Marschat, Marjorie Meadows, Nancy and Sally Noyes, Louise Pfudl, Jane Porter, Camilla Rikert, Joyce Stoddard, Jean Terhune, and Carolyn Davis.

Scene one opens when Apollo leaps into view between his waiting attendants, who are quickly transformed into restless thoroughbreds. Then comes a group of maidens in a dance called a "Frolic," followed by several warriors who do the "Pyrrhic Dance." Then a youth and a maid enact "Vintage" a ceremonial dance depicting the treading of grapes into wine. "Springtime in Hellas" is the next number, which is followed by the celebrated games.

Merrie England in the time of Robin Hood forms the second scene. With a background of Sherwood Forest a crowd of boys and girls dance into the green as Maid Marion approaches. Morris dancing in the active "Shepherd's Hey" was enjoyed by all. Several more dances end the number as they all wind around the May-poles, garlanded in orange and yellow, and the other purple and lavender.

Gypsies on horseback proved most interesting. The happy gypsies become enmeshed and then unwind in the last part of the festival. Many intricate parts are here portrayed with much dancing in gypsy fashion. The rhythmic designs danced in the second scene was by Perry Mansfield and music by Louis Horst. Miss Catherine Colton was the accompanist.

The senior class orator was Dorothea Keil and the spade oration by the junior president was made by Anne Parker.

Born In Bermuda

A cable message from Bermuda to Mrs. Nellie M. Wood Wednesday morning announces the birth of a son on Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Sant Fournier. Mrs. Fournier is the former Gwendolyn Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Wood of El Monte, Calif., who are visiting in Bermuda, and granddaughter of Mrs. Wood of this town. Mother and child are reported as doing nicely. Mrs. Fournier has visited here often with her grandmother and has many acquaintances and friends. It is expected that her parents will soon return to Northfield for a visit before going on to their home in California.

Schools Sunday Speakers

Two well-known speakers will be heard in the chapels of the Northfield schools on Sunday. At Mt. Hermon Rt. Rev. W. Appleton Lawrence, Bishop of Western Massachusetts, will preach in Memorial chapel at the morning service at 10:30 and at vespers at 5:30.

Dr. S. Ralph Harlow of Smith college will conduct the morning worship service in Sage chapel at 11, and will also be heard at the first Round Top service of the year at 5 p. m. Sunday afternoon

Hermon Parents' Day Was An Unusual Success Festive Spirit Evident

Blue skies and sunshine beamed upon the 400 parents and friends of the students at Mt. Hermon school last Saturday afternoon when the sports events and other attractions outdoors summoned the crowd to the open air. Earlier in the morning, amid gray clouds, only a few brave parents had arrived, but by noontime, when the assembly program was being held in Camp hall more than 100 had arrived, and in the afternoon at the baseball game, nearly all of the expected number were on hand.

Induction of two faculty members and 16 students into the Cum Laude scholarship honor society took place at noon with Dr. David R. Porter, headmaster, presiding. Secretary Horace H. Morse gave a short history of the society, and conducted the formal induction. Alexander Gibson, head of the foreign language department, and Mrs. Elsie Jackson, a member of the English department, were admitted.

The 16 boys were led by the valedictorian, R. J. Horn and the salutatorian William Mendenhall, Jr.; Joseph D. Alter, Richard D. Birdsall, Frank J. Burnham, Geo. W. Clearwater, Jr., Burt Easton, Carleton K. Finch, Charles S. Hall, Robert S. Hall, Arnold F. Keller, James W. Mattern, William V. M. Robertson, William E. Smith, Robin Stevenson and Charles I. Weismann.

The banquet in the evening in West hall was attended by 1,000 people, including students, faculty, guests and parents. Dr. Porter presided. Clarence Carr of Southfield offered grace. Rev. Harold Buker, '12, a parent of one of the students, and Chester Barnard '07 of Philadelphia, a trustee and president of the N. J. Bell Tel. Co., made short speeches.

The annual hobby show was held in the library and many visitors came to see the score of exhibits prepared by the students and faculty. Student winners were as follows: for originality, Lincoln Adair; for workmanship, the paintings and etchings of Philip Walker; and for method of presentation the exhibit of the aviation club.

In baseball the freshmen from Mass. State defeated the Hermon squad 5-0, and in tennis Hermon was victorious over the Springfield college frosh 10-0.

Parade And Services For Memorial Day

The joint committee for Memorial Day calls up the people of this town for whole-hearted cooperation in this "time of stress." Our loyalty and pride in our country should prompt us to show our appreciation of the manifold blessings purchased for us by the sacrifices of our honored dead.

Plans have been made to hold the exercises at the Center cemetery as was done last year. After decorating the GAR tablet at Alexander hall the parade will start at the high school with the American Legion, the Greenfield High School band, the Sons of Veterans, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and school children in line. Following the exercises at the cemetery the parade will proceed to the town hall where the World War tablet will be decorated.

The program will be announced by the committee at an early date. Chairman Richard G. Holton and the committee hope that the people of the town will turn out en masse that we may have the best showing that Northfield has had at any Memorial Day exercises.

The Brotherhood

The annual election of officers for the Northfield Brotherhood will take place at the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday. Supper will be served at 6:30 followed by the business meeting. Dr. David R. Porter of Mt. Hermon will introduce a number of teachers from the school who will participate in the program.

Another Item Of Interest Seen The "Harp" Pine Its Shape Mystifies

A week or so ago, the Editor of the Press was informed by Rev. Henry Mason of this town, that he wanted to get a good photo of the "Harp" pine and would try his skill with the camera soon. Now the Editor had never heard of a "Harp" pine in Northfield and asked of its location. He was informed that it was on the Winchester highway, on the left going north, near the brink of the Field gravel pit, about a quarter of a mile beyond the state line. The Editor investigated and found the site and the old pine tree and found that it was a freak tree, with its trunk separating about five feet above the ground, into duplicate trunks, so as to form a "lyre" and not a harp, as we know the musical instrument. A week has passed and from Denver, Colo., comes a letter, making an enquiry concerning the tree, from a student of trees, who is compiling a library of information regarding all oddities. Evidently the tree has been publicized in some magazine or newspaper and its fame has spread. Someone traveling along the highway has spotted the tree and with camera and pen, passed along the information, of the strange growth of this pine. And so it adds another item of interest to this town, along with the big birch on the mountain side here, the largest birch in the world.

May Do Highway Job; Sunderland Firm Lowest

On Tuesday the bids submitted for the construction of the new highway on Main street were opened in Boston by the State Public Works Commission, and Warner Bros. & Goodwin of Sunderland were the lowest with $228,427.60. Second lowest bidder was the Kelleher Corporation of Turners Falls with $236,824.10 and third, S. Rotondi & Sons of Stoneham with $256,568.50.

The project calls for reconstruction as a three-to-four lane highway with bituminous macadam surface of that section of Main street which is common to Routes 10 and 63. Farms road will be rebuilt as a two-lane bituminous macadam highway from a point two-tenths of a mile from the junction of Routes 63 and 10, southerly for three-tenths of a mile. Plans also call for construction of a bridge over Warwick brook.

It Was Bird Day

Following announcement at breakfast Tuesday morning, the 525 girls of the Seminary prepared picnic lunches and departed for the nearby hills in celebration of Bird Day, traditional spring holiday.

Ringling of the old bell in East hall tower proclaimed Bird Day to Northfield. The surprise holiday was begun by Dwight L. Moody in the early days of the school. A number of the students climbed to the summit of Mt. Mochnadnock, other dormitories held picnic parties at Mt. Grace in Warwick, and at Laurel Lake and one large group visited the Natural Gardens near Hinsdale N. H.

To make the holiday complete, the evening study hour was omitted and lessons already prepared were held over for classes Wednesday.

Wilson's Anniversary Of 59 Years' Service

Wilson department store is celebrating its 59th anniversary which is rather a long time. Established in Greenfield for the convenience and service of the buying public, it has had the satisfaction of being the one store, which has kept pace for dependable merchandise and dependable service throughout the years. It has truly been a wonderful institution and almost every year has witnessed its expansion into more and more departments until today, it compares well with the leading establishments of its kind. It has not hesitated to modernize its equipment and only recently has changed its appearance, for the better, with new type display cases and counters.
Wilson's is an attractive store and from all parts of the county comes a substantial patronage.
Messrs Willis and Reid, the present owners, are men of vision, and their development of the institution, for such it is, is to be commended. Success will follow success.

29 MILLION!

A record never before approached!

★When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set.
29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly.
For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge
Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000
Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on lightweight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work.

The public has acclaimed the 1941
Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things
America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

Will Have You Panting?

The other day, our buyer told me to write up an ad about our pant stock, mentioning the fine variety that we carry in all types of pants. Fine, I thought to myself, but how can I write about each type of pant we carry, and do it in anything less than a two-page ad? The more I thought about the huge assortment of trousers it is always our policy to have, the more I wondered just how many pairs we had in stock. So I started to count, and when final tabulation was made, it revealed our pant stock as containing 1,253 pairs. Now that's a lot of pants! Is it any wonder that we carry pants to suit every taste, and every pocketbook? If laid end to end in Northfield, they would reach to the railroad station, or if piled one on top of the other, would be higher than the Bookstore Building. What a choice for the men and boys of Northfield. Dress pants in worsteds, gabardines, tweeds, flannels, coverts, cassimeres — work pants in coverts, twills, khakis, whipcords — washable summer slacks in cotton gabardines, cords, in stripes, plains and plaids — white ducks, white flannels — everything and any thing you could possibly want, we've got, and at the right price. Waist sizes are from 28 to 50, and prices are from . . .

EDITORIAL

Activities of the Northfield schools during the past week, has been heralded through the Press and over the radio from coast-to-coast. It has served to call attention to the schools and create a new interest. If it has done this, it will have been well, for the generation who have been its mainstay is passing and a new generation must assume new leadership. The schools need no apology for their existence and now under the guiding hand of a new administration, there is every assurance that all will be well. This community is fortunate in having these schools located in its midst and our local citizens, ought to the extent of their ability, cooperate in every endeavor in their success.

May Have Early Mail

The East Northfield post office announces that it is receiving bids on mail messenger service between Bernardston and the Northfield and East Northfield post offices for the carrying of mail in the early morning. Full particulars may be had upon application to Postmaster Skilton. An inspector of the mail service was in town on Tuesday and the related facts, which would improve local facilities are as follows: A truck now leaves Greenfield for Brattleboro, carrying the mails, bundled, which has arrived in the early morning and passes through Bernardston, via Route 5 about 6 a. m. It is proposed that Northfield mail be included in the carry and that at Bernardston it be transferred to a truck to carry to the post offices here. It would mean that the morning editions of all newspapers would arrive here by 7 a. m. and we would be afforded a most beneficial service, especially during the summer months, when so many visitors are here.
